

Print Journals

For education and research, journals are the primary information resources in any subject field. Apart from the more than 21,000 online/e-journals, the Central Library of KL University subscribes more than 500 national (400) and international (100) print journals and magazines from reputed publishers including Association for Computing Machinery, Harvard Business Review, etc