

Study Rooms

The study room is meant for collaborative study by a group of students or researchers. One Study room is available in Level 1 of the Central Library for serious study. Reservation of the room can be made by intimating the Librarian in writing the date, time period and number of persons. Librarian may be contacted by email (centrallibrary@kluniversity.in) or over phone (Extn 1888) to know the availability.

The following guidelines shall apply:

The study room is available for use of all bona fide students, faculty, and staff of the University.

Study room will be booked on a first-come-first-served basis.

The person reserving the room is responsible for the room and equipment and held liable for damages/losses caused by negligent use.

It should be used for study purposes only and not for any other purposes.

A maximum number of 10 persons and a maximum time of 2 hours is allowed for the group.

Persons should not bring snacks, food items, etc inside the study room; they should not leave anything in the room. The room should be left clean and tidy.

Library is not responsible for personal property lost or left in the room.

The tables and chairs provided in the room only to be used; no furniture should be brought from outside the room.
