On this final day of our camp we conducted medical camp in the adopted village of our unit with collaboration with NRI institute of medical sciences. As our volunteers surveyed door to door and informed about the medical camp people came from all over the village. We conducted free medical tests to the people who came to the camp and we situated the camp in the local Panchayat office as it was situated in the heart of the village. We also made announcement using mike to get to the people who are situated in the corner of the village and we received a great response.
