A Report on Plantation Drive Conducted on 18-09-2021 at Prathuru

Objective:

The objective of the Plantation Drive conducted on 18-09-2021 at Prathuru was to enhance green cover and environmental sustainability in the village. This initiative aimed to plant trees, promote biodiversity, improve air quality, and beautify the surroundings. Additionally, it sought to engage the community in eco-friendly practices and foster a sense of responsibility towards environmental conservation among residents.

Description:

Pharmacy NSS volunteers actively participated in a Plantation Drive led by the NSS team of KLEF. The event commenced at 11:30 am at Prathuru's Village Water Tank Park, where both male and female students enthusiastically planted saplings. The students were organized into teams: one identified planting locations while another, supported by Grama Panchayat staff, dug pits, and completed the planting, followed by watering the saplings. Dr. Habibulla Khan, Advisor and Dean of Student Affairs, Dr. KRS Prasad, Dean of Student Affairs, and Dr. K. Ravindranath, Associate Dean of Extension Activities, along with Mr. P. Srikanth Reddy, Programme Coordinator of KLEF NSS Cell, commended the NSS volunteers for their efforts. Dr. Naresh Dumala, Incharge of the Department of Pharmacy, coordinated the program alongside faculty members Dr. Narender M, Mr. Nagaraju B, and Dr. Prasanth DSNBK. Mr. T. Sivakrishna and Mr. GVKP Chandrasekhar were also actively involved in the event.

Outcome:

The Plantation Drive held on 18-09-2021 at Prathuru village achieved several significant outcomes:

1. Increased Green Cover: The active participation of Pharmacy NSS volunteers and KLEF NSS team resulted in the successful planting of numerous saplings at identified locations in the village. This initiative significantly contributed to enhancing the local green cover, promoting biodiversity, and improving the aesthetic appeal of Prathuru.
2. Community Engagement and Awareness: The event fostered community involvement as students, faculty, and Grama Panchayat staff collaborated to plant and nurture saplings. This engagement not only raised awareness about environmental conservation and sustainable practices but also strengthened community bonds and instilled a sense of ownership among residents towards maintaining the newly planted trees.
3. Appreciation and Support: The efforts of the NSS volunteers were appreciated by university officials including Dr. Habibulla Khan, Dr. KRS Prasad, and Dr. K. Ravindranath, as well as by Mr. P. Srikanth Reddy, Programme Coordinator of KLEF NSS Cell. Their recognition underscores the significance of such initiatives in promoting environmental stewardship and community service.

Overall, the Plantation Drive at Prathuru village was a resounding success, leaving a positive impact on both the environment and the community, while fostering a culture of sustainable development and collective responsibility among participants.

Impact on Society:

The Plantation Drive at Prathuru village on 18-09-2021 positively impacted society by enhancing environmental consciousness and fostering community participation in sustainable practices. It beautified the surroundings, promoted biodiversity, and instilled a sense of responsibility towards conservation among residents.
