Report on Plant Distribution Drive

Conducted on 15-08-2021 at Vaddeswaram

Objective:

The Plant Distribution Drive conducted on 15-08-2021 at Vaddeswaram was to distribute plants door-to-door in the village, aiming to enhance green cover, promote environmental awareness, and encourage community participation in sustainable practices. This initiative sought to instill a sense of responsibility towards environmental conservation among residents and contribute to the beautification of the local surroundings.

Description:

On the 75th Independence Day celebrations, Unit-04 NSS Volunteers distributed Jama and Neredu plants door-to-door in Vaddeswaram village. The event saw active participation from Dr. P. Gopikrishna, Programme Officer of the EEE department, and NSS Incharge Mr. D. Kalyan, along with other faculty members. University leaders include Advisor Dean of Student Affairs Dr. Habibulla Khan, Dean of Student Affairs Dr. KRS. Prasad, Associate Dean of Extension Activities Dr. K. Ravindranath, and KLEF NSS Programme Coordinator Mr. P. Srikanth Reddy, appreciated and commended the volunteers for their efforts in promoting environmental sustainability and community engagement through this initiative.

Outcome:

The outcome of the plant distribution drive on the eve of the 75th Independence Day in Vaddeswaram village included increased greenery and aesthetic improvement due to the distribution of Jama and Neredu plants. The initiative also enhanced community awareness about environmental conservation, encouraged residents to participate in sustainable practices, and strengthened bonds between the university and the local community through active engagement and support from faculty and university leaders.

Impact on Society:

The plant distribution drive on the eve of the 75th Independence Day in Vaddeswaram significantly boosted local environmental consciousness and beautification efforts, fostering a sense of community responsibility and active participation in sustainable initiatives among residents. The involvement of university leaders and faculty further inspired civic engagement and strengthened community ties through collaborative environmental stewardship.
